

In Society.

A woman in society is obliged to keep late hours. She must attend receptions and balls. She seldom allows herself a and balls. She seldom allows herself a quiet evening at home. Her whole time is taken up in keeping engagements or entertaining in her own home.

Her system becomes completely rundown as a consequence. She soon finds herself in a condition known as systemic catarrh. This has also been called Gentlemen: ... "A few years ago I had to give up social life entirely, as my health was completely broken down. The doctor advised a complete rest for a year. As this was out of the question for a time, I began to look for some other means of restoring my health.

"I had often heard of Peruna as an excellent tonic, so I bought a bottle to see what it would do for me, and it certainly took hold of my system and rejuvenated me, and in less than two months I was in perfect health, and now when I feel worn out or tired a dose or two of Peruna is all that I need."-Mrs.

"I owe my health and life to Peruna. "I owe my health and life to Peruna. We rarely call in a physician, in fact it has been years since I have taken any other medicine than yours. I am afraid of drugs, and although I have been sick many times I have taken only your medicines. They are wonderful indeed. We have a very large house and entertain a great deal, and I do all my own work, thanks to Peruna."—Mrs. J. W. Reynolds

TICSagaa OF THE DAY M

The Tariff Tax. Even the protectionists, who are determined to stand pat, acknowledge that the tariff is a tax upon imported products. It is therefore important for every voter to discover how much tax is collected from him when he purchases the necessities and luxuries of life. The receipts of the government from custom duties for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1903, were $284.-479,582, and as there were 16,239,797 families in the United States at the last census, which were increased to perhaps sixteen and one-half million on the same date, it will therefore be seen that each voter who is head of a family pays, on an average, $17.24 as his share of the tariff tax. It does not matter how poor you are, you pay this tax; in fact, in most cases the cheapest quality of goods pay the highest tariff. If the tariff tax were collected as the personal property tax, or the poll tax is, there would be vigorous kicking from Maine to Texas and the Congressman that would not vote to reform the tariff would get but few votes. But the tariff tax is collected in an indirect manner, the merchant who imports the goods paying it and adding amount of the tax to the cost of the goods. So the consumer not only pays the tax, but a further percentage to the importer for his outlay for the tax he has paid. This indirect tax, it might be said, is necessary to support our greatly enlarged army and navy and the increased cost of pensions and generally to help keep up this great and glorious republic in the modern lavish fashion that prevails under Republican administrations. If the amount colsome force in the contention for the retention of the tariff at its present high rate, but the 54 per cent average protection which the tariff creates has begotten monopoly and the monopolists or trusts are enabled to extort a much and "go home," it is possible that a greater tax in the form of profit on good many of the lesser lights of the what they produce and sell to the party did not approve the program, but American people. So that not only do tariff duties increase the cost, and given an opportunity by Democratic therefore the selling prices, of the imported goods on which tariff taxes are by a strict party vote. Also the bills ollected, but they permit the selling prices of all similar home-manufactured goods or goods produced in this country to be increased to what it would cost to import them, with tariff and costs and charges added. Since the present high tariff was enacted the cost of living has advanced 34 per cent and the creation of trusts has beome a national scandal. It has been estimated by expert statisticians that the tariff tax paid to the trusts by the head of the family exceed, by more than five times, what is received by the government, and that the average for each family closely approaches $100. These figures are btained by making careful estimates based upon the amounts which are spent for each of the more important articles consumed. The most exasperating thing in the monopoly the tariff that it allows them to sell their surplus productions cheaper abroad than here, which shows the enormous profits realized from the home market, When the trusts export their products they have to pay freight and other expenses and the tariff tax that all other countries impose, except England, and yet undersell the same class of products in the country they export their Postoffice and Other Scandals. If the Republican leaders of Congress had been certain there were no more frauds and scandals to be exposed in the postoffice and other departments, would they have voted, as they did, to prevent a thorough investigation? It would certainly have been to their political advantage to have allowed the Democrats a free hand to investigate, if there was nothing to cover up. As far as Mr. Bristow was allowed to go he discovered everywhere fraud and corruption, but he only investigated one bureau and serious charges have been made that other bureaus are to be treated with respect, even if she also rotten. The Postmaster General was opposed to the Bristow investigation and stoutly maintained that "nothing was the matter," until the exposure was so imminent that he had to change his tune. To discover and expose any more scandals "before election" would be disastrous, so all resolution through Congress were defeated by Republican votes. When Senator Lodge in speaking against the passing of the resolution for investigation said that "in our own investigation of the Postoffice Depart-tol street, Concord, N. H., says: "I was time and our own way" program and have settled their own differences. the tips from the White House must also have reached the lesser Republican lights, for they all voted against investigation.

Time to Make a Change. Now is the propitious moment for change. Let us try the Democrats for a while. They have been longcan depend on Squiggins' honesty and suffering and patient. They have been persistent and virile in existence. For months and years they have looked other fellows offered him only half what forward to a new rising of a Presiden- had the personality of William Mctial sun. day will have been called to an account even more rigid and condign than the voice of the electorate of the greatest republic the world has known.-Cincinnati Enquirer.

That Do-Nothing Congress. The Republican newspapers are defending the majority party in Congress from the charge that the late session was a "do-nothing" session. They cite the docket clerk's compilation as a refutation of the charge and point to the 16,170 bills introduced as a monument of their industry. The real ground of criticism was not that Congress had done nothing at all, but that it evaded consideration of nearly all the legislation promised in the Republican platform and the measures in which there was widespread public interest. Tariff reform, reciprocity treaties, labor laws, interstate commerce law amendments, financial legislation, statehood bills, the impeachment of Judge Swayne, the Smoot case and a number of others, were not considered; yet thousands of private bills were passed increasing or awarding pensions and numerous bills in favor of claims and other matters of personal interest to constituents of Congressmen. Private bills of that nature which were passed were in the ratio of 8 to 1 of the public bills passed, and nearly all the public bills were for such local matters as to give the right to railroads to bridge rivers, for light-house stations, for new terms of United States District Courts, all of which may have been meritorious measures, but cannot be classed as of general importance. Nor can it be argued that the same condition always exists prior to lected by the government was all the a national election, for in the session taxpayer had to pay, there might be of Congress prior to the election of 1900, when similar political conditio prevailed, the ratio of private to public bills passed was only 4 to 1. When the Republican leaders deter mined to pass the appropriation bills they are all equally guilty, for when amendments, they were voted down introduced by Democrats, which covered all the matters of public interest, they were not allowed even to be considered in the committees, or rejected by a party vote. So there is no escape from the record made, that the Republican party feared to go on record on bills of great importance, or were so intent on a policy of conciliation that they adopted the "do-nothing" program.

Going A-Begging.

Who'll run with Mr. Roosevelt? It is doubtful whether in all Repub lican history the Vice Presidential nomination has ever gone so far and fared so ill. First there was a hint thrown out to Mr. Hanna, but he declined with all the positiveness of his nature to play second fiddle in any such fashion.

Governor Yates ed up his nose at the honor. He turned more busily than ever to managing the State administration for the Governorship contest.

Senator Aldrich was suggested; appropriately, too, since the relations of the Standard Oil Company are so close with the administration; but of course the Standard Oil Company would prefer to keep in the background. Mr. Bristow, the investigator of pos tal scandals, was the next to receive mention; but the incongruousness of placing a reformer on the ticket with Mr. Roosevelt evidently impressed the leaders and Bristow was dropped.

"Uncle Joe" Cannon came next. But he flatly stated his preference for the Czarship of the House. Then it was "put up" to Senator Cullom; who dodged it. Now it is running at large Mr. Walbridge's friends are said to have been trying to round it up for him. But friends of his also announce that his admiration for Missouri's Democratic Governor-to-be may find adequate expression at the polls; and it would be really absurd to have Mr. Roosevelt's running mate casting a vote for not only a reformer, but a Democrat. What, then, is the nomination to do with itself?-St. Louis Republic.

Two Rival Trusts.

The organization of the western cattle barons to fight the beef combine the attempts of the Democrats to pass is an anomaly, as both are after the same game of plundering the public. IS WORLD'S LONGEST WORD

"What is the longest word in the world? I am not rash enough to attempt to answer that question," said a well-known author. Having a Pic-nic.

There is something particularly enjoyable about going to a picnic. very word Pic-Nic brings pleasant anticipations of a good time. The idea of going out to the woods and fields or down by some brook or lake, with luncheon to be served on the grass and under the trees, has a peculiar fascination. The fresh air and exercise contribute to give a hearty appetite to all better than the finest course dinner that a French chef ever served. Wooden dishes supplant Dresden china, and paper boxes silver trays, when the "good things to cat" are spread upon the ground.

Pic-Nics are never complete without the sandwiches, sweet white bread with a generous layer of meat be tween. Libby's canned meats are ideal for pic-nies and outings. The cans are so easily opened and the contents so fresh and palatable that no pic-nic is a success without Libby's "Natural Flavor" Food Products.
